

Lawrence (Larry) Biegel, Attorney at Law, has been serving Monterey County for more than four decades. Although in his younger years he contemplated becoming a doctor, his chemistry grades in school steered him away from that path. Lucky for us, he changed directions and attended UCLA School of Law, graduating in 1968. Even though this path wouldn't allow him to help with people's health, he instead could help them get out of a jam!

In 1969, Larry began his career as a clerk for a prominent California Court of Appeals judge, finding his passion to become a trial lawyer. From 1970-1975, Larry worked as a Public Defender in Los Angeles. He established a great record had some landmark cases. Work continued, as well as his private life, having gotten married and moving to Monterey in 1975.

A few years later, Larry became a private attorney with the law firm Cominos, Shostak & Epstein. A strong relationship was built with Ted Cominos and soon Larry partnered with him in the firm Cominos & Biegel. This partnership lasted until 1997. That is when Larry decided to spread his wings and open The Biegel Law Firm. With true dedication to his clients, Larry likes to take a hands-on approach in 3 dimensions. It begins with offering legal advice and services. Next, is to focus on understanding the client's situation carefully, to make sure the client will be best served by hiring an attorney. Now we know why he has such a reputable firm! What honesty! Finally, the third dimension is to follow up with the client after the case. He makes sure that the solutions he provides are effective in the long run, guaranteeing the best possible service to his clients.

During these unprecedented times, The Biegel Law Firm has safeguarded against Covid-19 by screening guests, checking temperatures, requiring masks and using ample hand sanitizer. We asked Larry what advice he has for people who are trying to cope with these unusual circumstances. He said, " try to recognize the difficulty people are enduring, stay safe and pull together." The Biegel Law firm is ready to help the people of Monterey County, with a friendly welcome from the reception to the boss.
